The 2015 Texas Sauvignon Blanc is made from 100% Sauvignon Blanc grapes grown principally on the Mont Sec Vineyard of Far West Texas. The Sauvignon Blanc grape variety is thought to have originated in the Bordeaux region of France and is now planted in many countries and made in many styles. A notable area for Sauvignon Blanc production is the country of New Zealand where they produce Sauvignon Blanc in a crisp, elegant perfumed style. Texas Sauvignon Blanc emulates this New Zealand style.

As a dry wine with a crisp acidity, Sauvignon Blanc is a versatile food wine, complementing all foods from most cheeses, to green vegetables, oysters, and lighter fish.

For optimal intensity of aroma and flavor serve slightly chilled.
